

Voodoo Needle Now Hiring

The Voodoo Needle is once again hiring apprentices for fall. This is your big chance to give up your boring and useless life and be our slave. Aren't you lucky?

Here's the deal: We will need one new body piercer and two new tattoo artists for next year. We want to make sure that you will be able to be a team player so we get you on the team doing shit we don't want to do like cleaning toilets, scrubbing tubes, making needles and washing Nathan's cars and dishes. The apprenticeship will last around six months. If you survive your apprenticeship, you will be trained to do tattoos or body piercing. Another catch is while we are hiring for three positions a year from now, we might sign on more gimps than we have positions for. That's survival of the fittest, baby. Some will make it, others will be fired. It will be like living in a reality TV show. You'll love it! We will give you a progress report every couple of months to tell you if you are on the right track or just wasting your time. Good luck and let the best gimp win!

Questions to answer and return:

1. Do you have a car? Where do you live? If we called you with an emergency, how long would it take your ass to get here?
2. During your apprenticeship, you won't be paid. Do you have a job? How will you get money to survive? Are you in school?
3. If your apprenticeship is successful, will you work here full time or part time? Describe any schedule conflicts that you can foresee.
4. Do you like blood? Have you ever worked at hospital or around raw meat?
5. Do you have any special talents or hobbies we would want to know about?
6. Future tattoo artist, do you have a portfolio? You must be prepared to show us examples of your work if you want any chance of being hired. Draw or Paint me something.
7. Future body piercers, do you have any problem with touching nasty dicks and pussies?
8. How can we contact you? Do you have a phone? Do you have e-mail? Do you have a myspace?
